

Teach at Bright Horizons, We'll Pay for Your Education at Urban College!

Start teaching today and next semester's tuition is on us with no out-of-pocket expenses.

What if you could start your teaching career right now — and stop paying tuition?

That's exactly what we're offering!

As an Urban College of Boston student, you have the opportunity to come work in one of our Bright Horizons® early learning centers, and we'll pay your tuition (including books and fees) from next semester on. And that's on top of a competitive wage.

That's just one reason to start your career with us. What else?

- You'll get ongoing training and development opportunities plus access to free success coaching to expand your career as an educator, a leader, and more.
- Receive benefits including health insurance, a flexible schedule, and paid time off.
- Bring your authentic self to work each day. We want you to Be You.
- Collaborate with other teachers and use our own groundbreaking curriculum to make your classroom the very best.

Come find out why so many of your peers are choosing Bright Horizons as the place to start — and grow — their careers.
